

ActiveSync and the iPhone

1. Install iTunes 7.7 or higher and upgrade your phone to iPhone OS 2.0 if necessary
2. If you already have your Zimbra server running with IMAP/POP3, disable the account in Mail Settings.
3. Set up a new mail account, selecting "Exchange".
4. Enter your email address (e.g. "jdoe@venusisd.net") in the Email box.
5. Enter your Exchange domain (venusisd) and username (e.g. "jdoe@venusisd.net") in the Username box. If you only have one domain, then the domain is not necessary, only the username. (We only have one domain)
6. Enter your password in the Password box.
7. The iPhone will now try to automatically discover your Zimbra server. If this fails, then you will need to enter your server information manually. It will prompt you for this. (zh1.aircanopy.net)
8. Now tap the home button and go into Mail. You should see your new account appear, and it should show your folders and email messages within a few moments. Congratulations! Email is now set up!
